2013 Civil War Fall Rallies for Teachers

Registration Form

All of these workshops will naturally vary somewhat depending on their individual locations and features, but each will consist of primarily three parts, but potentially in different order:

1. Guided tour of a portion of the battlefield park with historian (Approximately 2 hours)
2. Soldier life demonstrations and hands-on participation with costumed interpreter (2 hours)
3. Visit to the park's museum and or visitor's center (on own)

Participants are asked to provide their own transportation to the event. Due to the remote location of some of the venues we suggest that participants bring their own "brown bag" lunch. Significant amounts of walking will be involved in the day's activities so bring comfortable shoes. Events will be held rain or shine.

Registration is $30/per person for each event. Registrations are limited to the first 40 teachers that sign up for each event. If less than 20 participants sign up for an event it is subject to be cancelled and refunds will be issued. Professional development certificates will be issued to all registrants. Payments for rallies need to be submitted with the registration form by the deadline indicated below for that event.

The following are some of each location's features:

Richmond Battlefield (Sat., Sept. 21) – Site of a significant Confederate victory in August, 1862, during the Confederate invasion of Kentucky. Rogers House Visitor's Center and Mt. Zion Church highlight this site's rich history.

Camp Nelson Civil War Heritage Park (Sat., Sept. 28) – Site of U.S. quartermaster and enlistment depot turned United States Colored Troops recruitment and training center. Over 10,000 black soldiers trained at Camp Nelson during the Civil War. An excellent interpretive center, walking trails, and historic home highlight this significant site.

Cumberland Gap National Historical Park (Sat., Oct. 5) – Cumberland Gap changed hands a number of times during the Civil War due to its strategic location. Well preserved earthworks and the nearby Abraham Lincoln Library and Museum are site features.

Perryville Battlefield State Historic Site (Sat., Oct. 26) – Site of Kentucky's largest and most deadly battle that occurred on Oct. 8, 1862. Perryville features a great visitor's center and museum and is one of the best preserved battlefields in the United States.

Fort Donelson National (Sat., Nov. 2) – Some historians claim that the capture of Fort Donelson in February, 1862, doomed the Confederacy's effort in the western theater. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant gained valuable experience here as river gunboats and land forces combined for deadly winter combat. The park's visitor center, National Cemetery, and the historic Dover Hotel are significant site features.
